NOTES FOR GUIDANCE

The University of the Third Age (U3A) is a self-help, self-managed, lifelong learning cooperative.
Members share knowledge, skills and experiences and contribute to the organisation by different means. Some people help in practical ways, such as helping with administration or refreshments, and others enjoy sharing their knowledge, skills and expertise by giving talks or leading a group.

U3As differ from other educational organisations and courses. Members do not study for examinations or certificates, there are no entrance qualifications – a desire to learn is all that is required. U3A groups often meet in Members’ homes or local halls. (Groups meeting in halls charge an extra 35p per hour towards hall hire).

Our website and annual programme give information about the very wide variety of groups we offer. These include academic subjects, arts and crafts and leisure activities. The reference to ‘Third Age’ relates to the fact that U3A is aimed at older people, no longer in full time employment. Our groups meet in the daytime. Before applying for membership, you may wish to make contact with the Convenors of any Groups you would like to join, to ensure their activities reflect your interest and that the Groups can accommodate you.

How did you hear about our U3A Group?

Please give details below of any way you feel you might be able to contribute (these will be added to the volunteers list for future use.
